BEARDED IRISES

The iris is one of the most beautiful, also one of the most satisfactory flowers for the garden and a very attractive cut flower. There is a large variety of color, size and heighth from which to select. A dry sunny location suits them best but they will thrive in any soil that is well drained. Care should be taken not to plant them too deeply; the earth should be pressed tightly around the long, white roots, the rhizome barely covered. Too deep planting may cause root-rot. July, August and September are the best months to divide and plant. If planted in July or early August most varieties should bloom the first year after planting. Every variety is guaranteed true to name, and should any prove untrue they will be replaced without charge.

Prices cover packing and delivery by express or parcel post. Cash should accompany each order. Owing to the cost of digging, packing and postage orders for less than $2.00 cannot be accepted.
